Where were you when you realized exactly who you are? Where did you make friends and build relationships designed to last a lifetime? Where did you experience the biggest changes of your life? High school has been the greatest journey of our existence. Through a maze of homework, practices, rehearsals, projects and big games we truly discovered where we belong. Although determining our exact location while navigating high school's treacherous passages seemed an unimaginable feat, through cooperation, hard work, and friendship we emerged from four years of questions with one answer: we are wherever we want to be.

Dance With Me

WWW. Entering the high school labyrinth as freshmen brought on challenges and thrills greater than we had previously anticipated. We avoided the serpentine seniors slyly seducing us with promises of "pool passes". We weathered our way through the chaos of a certain history project. Through the rough seas and turbulent skies of our premier high school appearance we maintained our course, held true to our bearings, and made it through the year, shaken but unscathed. By sticking close to our friends we made it through the storm of freshman year, at times bewildered, but never lost. We knew where we were: on our way to another, better year of high school.school.com

WWW. As sophisticated sophomores we entered the maze with maps of experience and compasses of confidence, prepared to take on the world (or at least the MCAS). As sophomores we no longer felt lost in the deep end in a game of Marco Polo. We moved steadily forward, gathering friends and forging alliances destined to withstand the test of time. These friends gave us advice, a helping hand when we were down, and a shoulder to cry on, guaranteeing that we would never truly be lost. These friends determined where we were, where we are, and, in their own special way, where we will be. As we began to discover where we were within the labyrinth of four special years, we were prepared to embark upon an upperclassmen journey.com

WWW. Junior year presented us with a new maze of new challenges and thrills big and small. One by one the class members began exploring the countryside and surrounding cities, using our newly acquired licenses to expand our comfortable world circles. Our lives blurred as we maneuvered through the standardized tests, highways, traffic lights, and portable classrooms of our third year of high school. We somehow managed the long trek from the junior parking lot to the high school through rain, sleet, snow and fog, a labyrinth of the elements indeed. As we prepared to enter our final year at North Attleboro High School, we finally knew where we were in life and were prepared to decide where we were going. www.com

WWW. Finally, after three years of endless assignments, lectures, and busy work, we felt experienced enough to decide our futures and escape the labyrinth of learning that we entered daily. Senior year was all about applications, early and regular, rolling and binding, enough options to sidetrack the most savvy senior in an avalanche of paper. We kept our cool, though, because three years of preparation meant that high school was no longer a mystery. As acceptance letters rolled in and career plans were discussed, we finally knew where we were going. Graduation day came, promises were made to "keep in touch", hugs were shared, and many tears were shed. As the formerly indivisible class members prepared to walk in different directions, each person emerged with a feeling of victory. Together we had conquered the maze, through cooperation, hard work, and friendship. We were on our way to wherever life may take us.com

Class of 2004 History

As the story goes: Once upon a time in the land of Big Red Country, in the quaint old school house of NAHS, the class of 2004 set out to be the best class ever. Freshly out of the middle school, as freshmen, they knew many tasks lay ahead of them. Task one as freshman: Gather all worthy classmates, and elect your head honchos of the class. Task one was soon completed, and as a result the class elected Ryan VanDeGiesen as President, Tayla Dumoulin as Vice President, Kara Shumila as Secretary and Ashley Nerz as Treasurer. Task two: The upcoming float. The freshman stepped it up. The evil upperclassmen would do anything to prevent the humble class from succeeding, and stole pieces of our "Swat the Hornets" float. However, the class took a respectable second place, yielding first place to the immoral seniors. Having two tasks done as freshman the class was well on its way to greatness. Task three: The Freshman/Sophomore social. The girls got their hair and nails done to go dance the night away in the Middle School Cafeteria. The King of the school Mr. Whitty, along with the Prince, Mr. Pickering, decided that no class could ever be better than this freshman class, so they both decided to leave NAHS with the remembrance of a well behaved freshman class.

The class of 2004 brought many talents to the high school. As we made significant contributions to athletics, music, and the drama department. The freshman class set the bar in every realm of their new kingdom.

Sophomore Year

Now having one year behind us, the class had a better idea of what to expect. Under new royalty, the class was introduced to our new king, Mr. Gay, and two new princes Mr. Walsh and Mr. Barrett. The sudden change in royalty didn't phase the class one bit. The class went on to elect Ryan VanDeGiesen as head honcho once again, along with Peter Rizzo as Vice President, Marissa Parent as Secretary, and Tyler McNally as Treasurer. Once again the evil upperclassmen stole our float, and we had to settle for less than what we deserved. The royal class was on their way to greatness, and nothing could slow them down. The Sophomore/Freshman Social was another great success. The royal class allowed the underprivileged Class of 2005 to join the festivities for that one night.

Junior Year

Now classified as upperclassmen, the class elected Peter Rizzo as the new head honcho, Paul Corcoran as Vice President, Marissa Parent as Secretary, and Tyler McNally as Treasurer. The junior girls played evil stepsisters in the annual powder puff game. The Senior Sharks may have beaten the Junior Jets, but that defeat only fueled our fire for greatness.

The juniors having starting positions on varsity teams; the NAHS tradition of being the best was certainly carried out. Every sport had their successes, and championships were won, with major credit going to the junior class. The Music department and Drama department were fueled for success with the talents of so many driven juniors.

The junior prom was a huge success. No evil stepsisters could possibly interfere with this magical night. The royal ball, marked the turning point for the class, it was no longer about being the best, because we had become the best! As the prom ended and junior year was beginning to come to a close, the class realized that their fantasy life was almost over, and reality was approaching.

Senior Year

The fantasy wasn't over yet though! The class began the last year of their journey by electing Ryan Ganz as President, Amanda Robbins as Vice President, Mike Demers as secretary, and Jeff Czepiel as Treasurer. The year began with the beauty class filling out beastly applications. The beastly applications soon turned into the charming acceptance letters that swarmed graciously into mailboxes.

The battle for Big Red Country was coming close. The evil stepsiblings, the Junior Jets, and the heroines of the game, the Senior Sharks, were ready for a duel. Leading up to the massacre were grueling practices through darkness and downpour. Though, they were tough, they were fun nonetheless. Only a few days before the battle, we suited up, and put on our game faces. The day of the battle was a rainy afternoon, but we knew we were ready to win because we had three indomitable coaches. We stared into the scared faces of our opponents, and, with plays like ours, they should have ran with their tails between their legs. All in all, and despite some wrongful calls by the referees in order to sabotage the Sharks, we prevailed, and kicked the Junior Jets out of Big Red Country and back to Middle Earth where they belong. Like it always goes...beauty always wins.

The gala prom was definitely a starlit serenade with the king and queen of the ceremonies being Mike Demers and Jenna Brown. The citizens who joined in this experience watched anxiously as the select few were called up to assume their place in royal court. These lucky princes and princesses included Paul Corcoran, Ryan Ganz, Tyler McNally, Jenn Stowell, Nicole Meagher and Ashley Trimback. The rest of the night moved along

Where Are They Headed

From the first day of school, the junior class predicted a difficult but exciting year. Torn between SAT's, college decisions and the heavy workload from our teachers, we had a hard journey ahead of us. Although the Powderpuff game resulted in a loss for our class, our junior girls put up a vigorous fight. Our class came back in the float competition. The class float destroyed all other classes and raised a significant amount of money for our class. The Junior Prom was a great success after months of preparation. Nikki Lambert and Matt Daniels were crowned Prom King and Queen at the end of the night. The Prom gave us a night that we will all remember for years to come. Class unity and a great attitude from all the members of the junior class provided us with a fabulous junior year.

Joey Kingsley and Amy Diaz

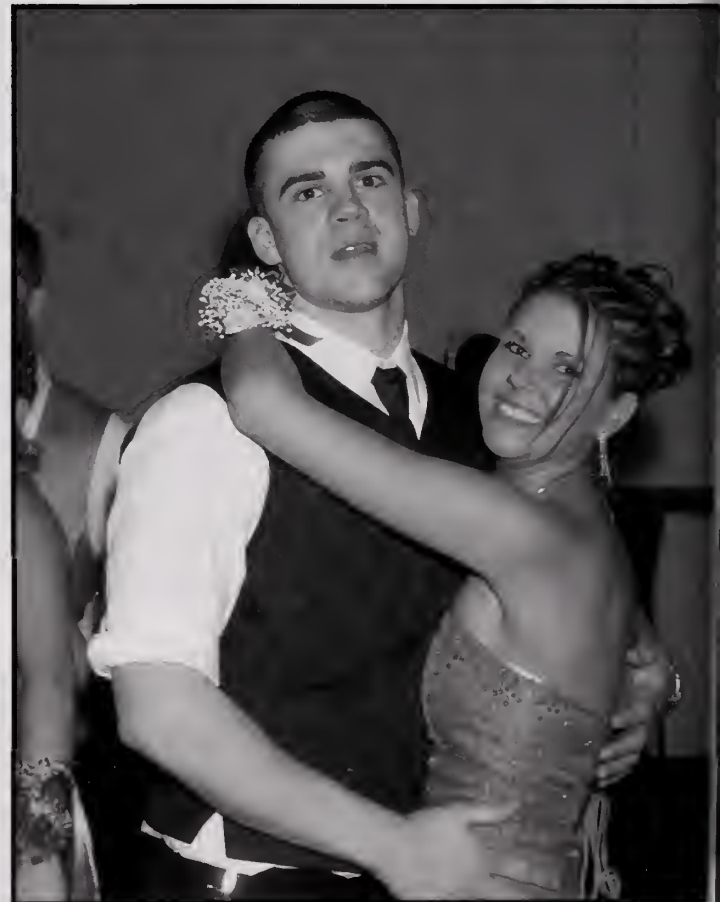

As they arrived, tip-toeing around muddy puddles and ducking beneath the dripping eaves of Cristina's, the guests of the 2004 Junior Prom were invited into a dimly lit banquet hall where beaming chandeliers cast shadows on a shiny dance floor. Festively decorated tables adorned with balloons and confetti were scattered about the room; multi-colored Chinese fighting fish provided for very captivating center pieces. After several attempts at inciting fish riots, the guests were lured onto the floor by the pounding music. The party-goers kicked off their shoes and stepped to the rhythm as a raucous Conga line snaked its way around the room. Later the ccupless slow danced to Aerosmith's "I Don't Want To Miss A Thing." By the evening's end, the Junior Prom had been declared a spectacular event. The general consensus: the soda glasses were the only things amiss.

Matt Daniels and Nicole Lambert rule the dance floor as king and queen.

J.J. Jespersen and friends tummies grumble as they wait for dinner to be served.

Prom Court: Alex Rullo, Jason Arundale, Dylan O'Neill, John Reilly, Greg Schrooens, Matt Daniels, Nicole Lambert, Laura Vallett, Elizabeth Clarner, Courtney Morton, Melinda Nea, and Megan-Marie Paulhus.

Brittany Hall and Mike Luzon are starting to get a little on the silly side.

Matt Kaelblein and Amy Sullivan take a little breather from all that dancing

Life is sweet when Dylan O'Neill and Sondra Trafford are in each other's arms.

Amy Chaisson sings a little tune for Alex Rullo.

What Are We Becoming

Every sophomore knows that after the conclusion of freshmen year, things begin to change quite rapidly. With high hopes we started our sophomore year. At first glance we were all delighted to see that we were no longer at the bottom of the food chain. We used our newfound authority to excel in various endeavors, from sports to chess club. Even though first place was not won by the float, we are confident that the "Whack-A-Warrior" was without doubt the best float of all. The freshman-sophomore social was a great success. For the first time in a long time the homecoming dance was held, and was a great time for all the sophomores there. This sophomore year has been the best we have had, and we hope for two more great ones.

Kelly St. Pierre

It was December 5, 2003, and the most anticipated night of the winter had finally arrived. Bitterly cold weather and inches of snow could not stop the hundreds of students from entering the Middle School Cafetorium and tearing up the dance floor. Of course, the student's boundless energy joined with non-stop music and made for a memorable night for everyone.

the night was fun and full of excitement as everyone had a chance to dance, socialize, be with friends, and take pictures to capture unforgettable memories. the DJ supplied all the latest songs to quickly get frozen students warmed up and dancing the night away. the last few songs of the night, holiday favorites, coupled perfectly with the Winter Wonderland that was quickly accumulating outside, and as the last song faded off, it was time to go home. The 2003 Freshman and sophomore social is one that will always be remembered.

What Have We Become

It has been a privilege to serve as freshman class president this year. All year long, we have been busy representing the school within the community. Our first responsibility was to show parents around to their students' classrooms at Parent's Back-to-School Night. In order to raise money, we worked the concession stand at the powder puff football game with the sophomore officers, and sold plenty of hot dogs. After our first pep rally (where I was first out in the limbo contest, by the way) the upperclassmen had tricked us into thinking that throwing confetti was against the fire code. Mr. Gay laughingly called our effort pathetic when he saw how little confetti our class had. With the help of the freshman cheerleaders, football players, our classmates and the generous donations of Briggs Nursery, we built our Homecoming float with a cool beach theme and "Wash Away the Warriors" slogan. It survived the wind to come in second place.

WWW. Where does most of your time go? How have you met most of your friends in highschool? Whether you're an actor, a cameraman, a musician, a leader, or an artist, many of you have dedicated part of your lives to a clubademic at North Attleboro High School.

This year was no different. Clubademics at NAHS never fail to build friendships and help talents blossom.

The Art Club, Music, and Drama added a little spice to the NAHS culture, while Peer Leaders, the National Honor Society, and Angel Planes gave back to the community. New clubs were started and are flourishing. When NAHS offers so many clubademics, why not get involved?.com

Let's Go Girls!

Powder Puff 2003

Each team started off with a week of practice before the big day. The girls bundled up and practiced to perfect their plays on Mason Field. The senior girls held on to their previous experiences in powderpuff by controlling the practice field right away, only to leave the junior girls stranded on the pitch black field when practice ended.

On the sunny day of November 2, 2003 the Senior Sharks and the Junior Jets went face-painted head on. The Juniors played their hearts out and worked their hardest, but it just didn't cut it. The Juniors were not good enough. The Sharks were just too talented and skilled to be stopped by the weak Jets. The Senior girls proudly took their 6-0 victory, a shut out, over the Juniors. Better luck next year. Hopefully you'll come out on top.

Video Club

The 2003-2004 school year was one with many successes for the Video Club. Under the leadership of President, Ben Miller, and Vice President, Brendan Flynn, the Video Club soared to great heights. Among our accomplishments were the filming of several school events. The notable productions were Ben Miller's epic senior football slide shower and Michael Despres's seamlessly edited Boston Health Careers Fair and Mock Accident Production. Whether it was Channel Nine, Top Gun, broken equipment, or the Senior Slide Show, the Video Club carried out a humorous, competent aura to Room 100.

Student Council Leads the Way

This 2003-2004 Student Council continued the traditions of the past. However, we also made a path of our own. Led by Ms. Caldwell and the Senior Officers, Brooke Lenahan, Mary Kathryn Maher, Ashley Nerz, and Peter Yan, the Student Council successfully completed many of their efforts.

Our biggest change this year, was the Homecoming Dance. Through the hard work and planning of the Student Council members, we organized the first Homecoming Dance in many years! Hopefully, the commitment and dedication of next year's Student Council Members will be able to keep the new tradition alive! Throughout the year, some of our activities included bake sales, selling lollipops and tickets to various events. We showed our teachers a token of appreciation during the Holidays and Teacher Appreciation Week. This year we held two American Red Cross Blood Drives to benefit the community. When NEASC arrived, the Student Council was ready. We conducted many informative tours and shuttled the members from room to room.

This year's Student Council worked hard to generate school spirit and make the school a better place. Good luck to next year's Student Council members in continuing their diligent work to make a difference.

Gym Class Heroes

P.E. Leaders

The P.E. Leaders of the 2003-2004 school year experienced no trouble showing the underclassmen who was in charge. Whether it was during stretching, on the pickleball courts, or refereeing from the sidelines, the P.E. Leaders always put the best foot forward. They were leaders, friends, and role models to the underclassmen. No task was too large for these leaders. The P.E. Leaders successfully cleaned out closets and trophy cases while still managing to come back and be the underclassmen in a game of matt ball. This years Leaders carried on the legacy of P.E. Class domination and their advice to next years leaders: don't hesitate to make the underclassmen drop and give you twenty!

Rocket Corner

It was another successful year at the corner, Rocket Corner that is. The wonderful merchandise ranged from a North Attleboro sweatshirt to a cute teddy bear. Under the spectacular marketing ethics of Ms. Moon and Mrs. Hogan, sales soared beyond belief. Rocket Corner will always remain an important part of NAHS.

The Staff Margaret Mulcahy, Ellena Augoustakis, Kristen Dillalis, Hillary Andrews, Amanda Walker.

Listen to the Music

The Music Appreciation Club

In its first of hopefully many more years, the Music Appreciation Club began a crusade to introduce the students of NAHS to many new types of music. The music lovers of the high school came together and shared their varying tastes. We had talented musicians playing all different types of instruments; from the guitar to the bag pipes.

By the end of the year, we hope that we will make a difference in the NAHS's musical awareness. With a bit of luck, next year will bring just as much music and be just as great of a year.

Building Bridges

Building Bridges is North Attleboro High School's first diversity club. "Bridges" is a support group for any student who needs a place to turn to for help. The club deals with sexual discrimination, protection, activism, and learns about current issues including those involving gay and lesbian youth. In Building Bridges' second year, there have been field trips and activities to help raise awareness in the community about diversity straight and gay issues. - Scott Shepard

Art Club

The Art Club began this year with great gusto, led by a top-notch advisor, Joanne Dorothy. Many new faces joined our crusade to spread awareness of the arts out to the community while having a blast! Talented individuals bubbling with self-expression invaded the scene of NAHS to engage the students and faculty by expanding their minds and adding some spice of creativity to everyday life. - Melissa Megna

The Galadriel

The Galadriel is still providing amateur poets, artists, and writers of North Attleboro High School with a place to get their work out into the public. This year, a hardworking group of students worked to narrow down the entries to only the best. Once all of the entries had been selected, there was more work to be done. The design concepts had to be decided on, the layout created, along with a host of other odd jobs.

Fonts, colors, pictures to poems and placement were all heatedly debated until after months of work, the final layout was agreed on. The staff, infinitely pleased with their accomplishment, began the task of printing the magazine. Ms. O'Brien was always there to help us with guidance and support as well as snacks at every meeting. Thanks to the tireless efforts of the Galadriel staff as well as the contributors, this year's magazines was one of the best in years.

Soaring to New Heights Angel Planes

This year Angel Planes members put forth an immense effort to raise funds for children in need of medical treatment and transportation. Not only did Angel Planes members contribute to a great cause, but the students and the teachers at North Attleboro High School also donated their time and effort.

Many different fundraisers were held to help raise money. Lollipops were sold and cans were circulated at lunch for students to contribute their extra change. Angel Planes also drew in a large crowd with their second annual Student-Faculty Kickball game. Teachers like Ms. Goyette sliding into second base and Mr. Russo kicking homeruns without breaking a sweat made the game very amusing and entertaining to watch. Although the teachers continued their winning streak, it has been rumored that this summer daily kickball practices will be held for next years competition. Angel Planes would like to thank all the dedicated students and faculty that devoted their time and efforts towards a worthy cause. Good luck in the future!

- Ashley Coughlin

The Big Day 1. Mrs. Mercer's Angel Planes' Club earned money to give to Mrs. St. Peters. 2. Alycia Barney takes a break to pose as Waldo. 3. Club President, Ashley Coughlin, speaks with Mrs. St. Peters about the dedication.

Student Role Models

The Peer Leaders Shine in NAHS

The NAHS Peer Leaders group began its year with one of the smallest groups in the past several years. Forty-eight sophomores, juniors and seniors came together in the fall with more focus and commitment to their cause than ever before. Lead by council members Alycia Barney, Paul Corocoran, Aimee Chaisson, and Amanda Walkins, this group was eager and ready to work. Travelling to area elementary schools, the Peer Leaders helped students advertise for the Great American Smoke-Out in November and helped to discourage their peers from tobacco use. In March, the group organized a school wide pickleball tournament to raise money and they crowned the most talented male and female pickleball teams. This year was a fun and exciting year for the Peer Leaders; good luck in the future!

-Alycia Barney

Peer Leaders 1st row Katie Cormier, Adria DeBalsi, Stephanie Schilling, Gulrait Kahn, Matt Farren, Alycia Barney, Amanda Walkins, Joey Kingsley. The Student Coalition Against Racism has been a very well-known club at NAHS. SCAR has developed a variety of understanding throughout the community. We promote diversity and fight against racism. We accomplished a lot this year and plan to accomplish more in the future.

Some accomplishments include Heritage day and Jr. SCAR at the Middle School. Heritage Day was very informative to the young middle school students. We were also very fortunate to have guest speakers at our meetings.

SCAR, lead by advisor Susan Caldwell, was a great success. We will continue to grow and have fun. Remember, "we all smile in the same language."

Desktop Publishing

With the ability to use Microsoft Word, Publisher, Power Point, Excel and Access, the Desktop Publishing class of 2004 was able to create a variety of projects this year. Everything from creating ads for Rocket Corner to producing a Holiday Cookbook tested our skills. Our teacher, Mrs. Hogan, enjoys teaching the class and takes the time to come up with creative projects. The knowledge we gained about computers will help us in the future.

The Latin Club

Talent, enthusiasm and hardwork were all characteristics of the 2003 and 2004 Latin Club. This year the club took every advantage to learn and excel. Many members participated in the National Latin Exam and many earned gold, silver or bronze medals. Furthermore, the Latin Club never failed to make half-days special with their delicious bake sales. Good luck next year and keep working hard.

Students Against Destructive Decisions is a nation-wide organization dedicated to providing students with the best prevention and intervention tools possible to deal with the issue of underage drinking, drug use, impaired driving, and other destructive decisions. This year the S.A.D.D. officers at NAHS were Charles Babecki, Alycia Barney, Tom Vigorito, Michael Demers, and Carrie Fisher.

S.A.D.D.'s events for this year included monthly meetings where, occasionally, guest speakers came to speak. The club also put on the Red Ribbon Campaign during Homecoming weekend. Red ribbons were tied to cars during the football game to remind everyone to think before their actions. S.A.D.D. also held numerous fundraisers including Singled Out, where participants had the chance to win a date with a senior boy or girl. In all, S.A.D.D. had a very successful year. Good luck to next year's club!

This has been a very busy year for the Future Teachers' Club. We began the year with a very successful car wash. Throughout the year, we had support from our teacher mentors and learned many things from them. On National Job Shadow Day, many members of the Future Teacher's Club shadowed their favorite teachers for the day. They were given the opportunity to learn the "ins and outs" of the teaching profession. A few other activities of the Future Teachers' Club included the Family Math and Science Night and the Celebrity Readers Program. All in all, it was a very succesful year for the Future Teachers' club. Good luck in the future and keep up the good work!

Drama: 2003 - 2004

We began this year with a new look. Our theater lacked large sidestages for the first time in recent memory and all the attention was focused on the main stage where Junior, Ashley Root, and new comer, Michael Demers, played the lead roles in the fall production, Justification. Demers wasn't the only rookie on stage; new members showed up in droves for the audition and were rewarded some meaty parts. The trend of newcomers inserting themselves into prominent roles continued during the One Acts, as new director, Ms. Lisa Forsgard, never skipped a beat. Under her guidance, the student-directed One Acts brought in a new era with a new, experienced director at the helm. The audience laughed with Sean Keane in Nobody Sleeps, sympathized with Kas Whiting in Cinder Who, and philosophized with Jesse Dinardo and Caitlin Menyo in Park Bench. While the One Acts started a new calendar year, the annual spring musical started our final academic quarter. The seniors' final musical, Guys and Dolls, drew sell-out crowds and the cast didn't disappoint. It was standing room only for Ian Kibbe, Cat Corbett, Peter Rizzo, Ashley Root and the rest of the cast. Lastly, before the seniors leave, we get to induct 13 new thespians into our troupe, led by our sponsor Ms. Forsgard. Congratulations and good luck!

Science Club and Science Fair

The goal of the Science Club is to create and encourage interest in science among elementary, middle, and high school students.

The Science Club began the year by running the annual Microbiology Workshop, which demonstrates simple microbiological techniques to high school students participating in the science fair.

Members of the club presented a multimedia presentation describing the science fair for sixth, seventh, and eighth grade classes at the Middle School. Many club members participated in judging the Middle School science fair and observing the students' productions. A fund from company donations was used to run a four week program Martin School's fifth grade classes. Eight club members performed a series of experiments for the classes covering expansion-contraction, combustion, heat transfer, and optics.

The Science Club also gave an award at the Middle School, High School and Regional Science Fairs.

This year, North Attleboro High School's Science Fair Program only increased its already impressive prestige in the school, town, state, nation, and world. Many of the top participants start their projects in September or even the summer and work in real labs under the guidance of a mentor.

Students scramble to complete their projects before the High School Science Fair. The difficult task of finding a topic or often more difficult task of finding lab space can push off experimentation until a few weeks before the fair in early January. From there, 18 students continue on the Regional Fair.

At the Region III Science Fair, held at Bristol Community College, North Attleboro kept its traditional overwhelming success. It earned several top and special awards, including Highest Scoring Project by Sharhiar Kahn and two qualifications for the International Science and Engineering Fair.

At the State Fair, north landed several place finishes, which are very difficult to obtain, including many first place awards.

At the International Science and Engineering Fair, Sharhiar scored a third place finish in Microbiology, and Mason Hedberg scored a second place finish in Medicine and Health Science.

Also this year, Mason won fourth place in the Siemens-Westinghouse Competition, and first in the Intel Science Talent Search. Jill Berry and Sharhiar presented their research at the Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, and Eric Wilson placed nationally in a Stockholm Water Research Competition.

2004 was the most successful year in North's Science Fair history!

The National Honor Society

The North Attleboro Chapter of the National Honor Society enjoyed another productive year! Through hard work and much effort, this year's seniors allowed the annual Craft Fair to run smoothly and successfully. After the fair, the Honor Society began its next endeavor: the Holiday Food Drive. After many dedicated trips to various homerooms, students collected enough cans to overwhelm the town's Food Pantry and successfully aid hungry families.

In early February, 47 new seniors and juniors were inducted, bringing the total number of the Honor Society Students up to 88. The Honor Society's large numbers and dynamic student population promise a glorious future.

Finally, in early May, the Honor Society participated in the Special Olympics. It served as a symbol of unity and closure among all members. As the seniors leave and the juniors vie for leadership position, the Honor Society secures a prominent place in student life and the community in years to come.

The Honor Society would like to thank its advisors Ms. Levesque and Mr. Burgess for their dedication and guidance. Through their leadership, the Honor Society has built up a strong foundation for future endeavors.

The NAHS Leaders

The Leaders 1st row Aarti Ghandi, Matt Trowbridge, Krystal Steliga. 2nd row Sonya Wilbanks, Sean Keene, Beth Johnson. 3rd row Eric Taylor, Peter Yan, Brendan Flynn.

The 2003-2004 NAHS Leaders proved to be a big help around the school. From the Office Aides, the Video Leader and Writing Lab Leaders, these students worked hard all over the school to keep everything organized and running. The dedication and commitment these students have happily put toward helping the students and staff is admirable. The shoes will be hard to fill next year.

The 2003-2004 Math League

The members of this year's Math League were brilliant and dedicated. Mrs. Burke, the club's advisor, lead the league to success. Competing against other teams in the New England Mathematics League, North Attleboro shined. Good luck next year and keep up the hard work.

The Student Advisory Council

The YMCA Leaders

It was another very exciting year for the YMCA Leaders. We began this year strongly with a very successful Haunted Woods in October and continued to work hard all year. Each member earned their eight hours of community service per month by chaperoning the YMCA Dances, working at a food shelter or other various activities. Through out the year we also kept in touch with a Leaders group in Ireland and during April Vacation we were fortunate enough to travel over seas and visit them. It was an unforgettable experience. Keep up the hard work!

Student Awareness

The Student Awareness Club headed into the 2003-2004 school year with a great attitude. Under the guidance of Ms. Caldwell, the club continued to help out the community. One of their most important activities this year was their Food Drive near the Holidays. All of the money and food from the Food Drive went to charity. Good Luck to next year's club.

The 2004 publication of the Northern Light began its year by selecting the new editors. Brooke Lenahan was the Girls Sports Editor, Matt O'Connor was the Boys Sports Editor, Stacy Strezsak was the Senior Editor, Caitlin Rougeau was the Underclassmen Editor, Amina Shareef was in charge of creating the dividers, Ashley Nerz was the Clubadept Editor, and, finally, Peter Yan was in charge of the computers. The group quickly united and decided on a unique 'Where's Waldo?' theme for the yearbook. Under the guidance of Mr. Lush and Jostens Publishing Consultant, Kevin Simoneau, the editors and their staff began their months of hardwork. After a year full of creating, picture taking, planning layouts and eating take-out, the 2004 publication of the editors completed the stunning 2004 publication of the Northern Light. Thanks to Mrs. Lush, Kevin Simoneau and the Yearbook Staff for all of their time and hard work and good luck to next years editors.

Memorial

Brian Jefferson Marsden

June 15th, 1952- March 22nd, 2004

NAHS will never be quite the same without this affable and talented art instructor. Always wearing an encouraging smile, he never failed to draw out the student from their insecurities to exceed their creative limits. He enjoyed acquainting himself with his students on a personal level, responding to them with respect due unto adults. Indeed, his love for art reflected, primarily, in the enjoyment he derived from teaching it.

Mr. Marsden received his associate's degree from Roger Williams College; a bachelor's degree from Rhode Island College, and a master's of education from the Rhode Island school of design. He was a member of the acclaimed Who's Who in American Teachers. And, for 25 years, Mr. Marsden graced NAHS with his sensitive and endearing presence. His presence was especially noticed by the BICO students, with whom he ate lunch everyday. To commemorate his involvement with BICO, they will be honoring his name by calling their cafeteria "Brian's Place," in which will hang the turtle designed, for him, by the art department. Mrs. Carol Marsden and sons, Brent and Derek, raised money for the program under his name. In addition, the faculty planted a tree outside the BICO classroom and the senior class bestowed a granite bench to be placed under it, in memorial. Though his presence no longer remains with us, his camaraderie and sincere concern shall linger for time to come.

GOLF

Going into the beginning of the 2003 season there were some doubts on how the team would perform especially with the loss of the probable number one man and co-captain Justin Guimond. This problem meant that the rest of the varsity players were going to have to step it up and perform their best everyday. The team did just that achieving a record of 10-8 with every team member playing in at least one match. This season was the best season in my four years. The highlight of competition was the Ryder Cup where a European team lead by Mark Raposa beat a Peter Gay lead American team. The tie breaking chip-off saw Raposa put his ball mere inches from the hole securing the victory for the European team. There were van rides, the "Scan Game", karaoke, and "Dancing Queen", the van's most famous song.

The future of the golf program looks bright as upcoming co-captains Brian Ross and Brett Lareau will anchor the team for another hopefully successful year.

On to Victory, This year's team would accept nothing less than a win.

In Coach Sullivan's last year as head coach of the Rocketeers, he led the team to an outstanding 8-1-1 record and a second place finish in the league. Numerous players were honored with All-Hockomock League awards this season. The players who received this recognition were on offense Quarterback Ryan VanDeGiesen, who was named Hockomock League Offensive MVP, Peter Rizzo, Justyn Ainsworth, and Marcus Vaughn and on defense Nate Danho and Tim Bartucca.

The 2003 season was highlighted by a win early in the season against neighboring Bishop Feehan in a 29-27 highlight littered nail-biter. The season continued on with victories against many competitive local teams such as Stoughton, Foxboro, and King Philip. The most anticipated game of the year, also this season's last game, marked the ninth consecutive Thanksgiving Day Game win over Attleboro 21-0. QB Ryan VanDeGiesen was named the Offensive Player of the Game and subsequently received the prestigious Balfour Trophy.

Head Coach Paul Sullivan stepped down as head coach at the end of the season to concentrate on his duties as Athletic Director; he will be succeeded by Coach Kurt Kummer.

Volleyball

We all came into the 2003 volleyball season with a great deal of excitement and anticipation. With four strong returning seniors and some very talented underclassmen, we expected to have a successful season. By beating out biggest rivals, Bishop Feehan and Franklin, we proved that we were a tough team to beat. Even though we came in second place in the Hockomock League, we finished the season with a record of 16-4 and then confidently headed to the state tournament. We quickly defeated Weymouth in the first round 3-0 and advanced to face Brockton. Though we lost to Brockton 4-1, we all played an awesome game. We were sad that the season had come to an end, but we all knew that our season was truly unbelievable. Our team formed an unbreakable bond over the course of the season and it was hard to see such a good thing come to an end. The seniors are leaving behind an undoubtedly great team for next year. Congratulations to next year's captain elects, Amanda Parr and Jess Farren. Good Luck next year girls. We will miss you!

Girls' Soccer

The 2003 soccer season seemed to end too soon. We completed the season with a winning record and succeeded in getting a bid into the state tournament. Since we lost 6 seniors last year, we had a lot of work ahead of us this season. However, having underclassmen with much untapped potential and strong senior leadership we knew this year would be a success. Our defense was reconstructed and through hard work and dedication became virtually unstoppable. As a result, we ended the season tied for the most shutouts in the league. Through tough practices, team sleepovers, and Papa Gino's nights our team formed a strong bond, which improved our performance on the field. Coach changed our formation to a 4-3-3 which improved our chances for scoring. With more scoring possibilities and strong defense our team proved itself. Our most memorable victories were beating Bishop Feehan 6-2, shutting out the undefeated Canton girls 3-0, and of course our 4-2 win against our big soccer rivals, King Phillip. Unfortunately, the season came to an early end when we lost in double overtime to Whitman Hanson. Still, the seniors are leaving behind a lot of talented juniors and underclassmen and predict great success in the 2004 season. Good luck to next year's captain elects, Heather Lopes and Amanda Walkins. Good luck girls!

The North Attleboro boys' soccer team opened up this season with a tough loss to Franklin. The team was lead by Co-captains Dan Dailey and Tyler McNally and also featured other key seniors Chris Wietecha and Matt Olivera. The defense this season was admirable lead by Co-Captain Tyler McNally, Connor Richardson, and Mike Barry and anchored by goalie Mike Mitchell. They never gave up or quit even through the first few losses of the year and deserve respect.

The offense up front consisted of Co-Captain Dan Dailey, and young but talented players Jeff Cumplido, Dylan O'Neill, and Bret Lareau. Victories were hard to come by, but were definitely well earned. Their victories over King Philip and Franklin avenged earlier losses to the same teams and the KP game would cap the season off with a win.

The team will be losing All-League All Star Tyler McNally, but from here the North Attleboro soccer program has much room to expand upwards with the incoming and maturing talent it can expect to receive next year.

Girls' Cross Country

The North Girls Cross Country team proved what it takes to wear red and white this year in 2003. The team of six girls demonstrated how hard work and dedication can lead to success, despite the adversity of a small team. Under Coach Dwight Estey and Captain Andrea McKim, the team concluded the season 2-4 overall. Throughout the year, the North runners had numerous personal records. Ashley Willox and Jess Rutter led the team, while veterans Cory Krozier and Andrea McKim continued to show improvement from the previous seasons. Newest members, Ashley Nerz and Kani Timm kept the team strong with their new found successes.

The team came together both on and off the course to make a memorable season that will be forever remembered. Team practice conversations were unforgettable! Good luck to next years captain, Ashley Willox, to make many more miles of memories.

Thanks to the XC Team and Coach Estey. Remember to keep running 'sole' sisters!

The Boys' Cross Country Team had a successful hardcore season this year led by Captains Ian Hobson and Chris Kalafarski. The team experienced many ups and downs throughout the season, but the prevailing contributions by seniors Brendan Flynn, Ian Hobson, Paul O'Leary, and Matt Hickey always made the team look forward to the next meet. The efforts of these individuals can only be matched by the love for their shoes. Many of the guys viewed the girls as real heroines, whose inspiration kept them coming out to run each and every day.

Next Season looks bright, with rising stars Sean "Chowda" Coughlin and Dan "Puddles" Scanlon following the example set by the top finishers Flynn and Hobson. Under the leadership of Captains Tom Doherty and Nick Korbas the cross-country team should soar to great, new heights.

Mr. Patch followed the senior class through our high school years as the coach of the boy's cross-country team and we will be sad to see him go, but we will always remember the fun times playing Ultimate Frisbee and grabbing water during an LSD run. Good luck future stars and remember to always look ahead in your race and run hardcore.

I got my first Gray's stick,
Bought it and thought I was slick.
Played with it 'til my fingers went stiff,
It was the fall of 2003.

Sittin' under the sun's scorch,
Coach told us we're gettin' better.
Oh and with our sticks in hand,
We knew it was this season or never.
Those were the best days of our lives.

Me and some girls from school,
had a team and we tried really hard.
Never quit and Coach Folan got married,
We shoulda known how far we'd get.

Man we stayed strong all the time,
Our first win made us restless.
We were determined to win more,
I guess nothin' can last forever-forever, no.

Oh when we look back now,
That fall seemed to last forever.
And if we had the choice,
Ya-We'd always wanna be there.
Those were the best days of our lives.

And now the times are changin',
Look at everything that's come and gone.
Sometimes when I think back on that season,
I remember the good times we had and what I'm gonna miss (Bryan Adams).

Ain't no use in complainin',
When you just gotta make due.
Spent out summer evenin's down
at the field,
And that's when we all pulled through.

Good luck next year girls!

The girls' swim team had an ice breaking season, finishing with the record in the history of North girls' swimming. Having an undefeated status in the Bay League Colony, and losing to only one non-league team, we proved that a having diving team is not necessary to be a powerhouse. The true test of our strength, however, was not Weston, Nauset, Oliver Ames, or even Barnstable. It was the one and only Nantucket. Last year the Nantucket girls were the league champions and they had been for three years. They clinched last year's meet against us, only because they had a diving team. This year was another story, as our meet against Nantucket ended up being a tremendous success. Though we were stuck on the blocks for nearly six hours, while in the pool, we made it worth our while. In beating Nantucket, we were determined to win the title of "Bay Colony League Champions." Still, the season wasn't over. We went on to State Central Sectionals and were seeded 4th, compared to 12th, last year. At the states, we left proudly taking home sixth place.

This year we had 23 swimmers. The true success of our team, was not the championship title, or placing at states and sectionals; it was the improvement that the team made throughout the season. Many of our swimmers were new to the team and ended up being some of our biggest stars. Without the hard work and dedication of the whole team, we would not have had a chance of holding the state title. The swimmers showed enthusiasm and dedication to learn how to do flip turns, starts, or other strokes that needed to be done to help the team.

This season was one to remember. The hard work, fun times, and good friends made this this a season not soon to be forgotten. Always remember that it doesn't matter if you are the fastest or the slowest on the team as long as you push yourself hard, it is a true accomplishment. Good luck next year.

The North Attleboro High School Men's 2003-2004 Swim Team once again enjoyed a year of unparalleled success. The year began with a heart pounding, down to the last second victory over Nauset, winning by a mere point. From there, the team dominated their opponents, outscoring them by huge margins. Despite falling to powerhouse Weston in an intense meet, the men never lost their focus. For the third straight year, the men's team was Bay Colony Conference Dual Meet Champions. At conference championships, the men managed to come from behind and win the meet, scoring victories in every event.

Next up for the team was South/Central Sectionals, in which the men held their ground against arch rival Boston College High. Despite North holding the lead for a good part of the meet, the sheer numbers of B.C. High swimmers outscored North's 10 swimmers and North had to settle for a second place by only a few points. One final challenge lay ahead, States. At Division II State Championships, the men's team once and for all showed what they were made of. The men's team won four events and held the lead for most of the meet. However, Weston's team came from behind to snag the lead and win the meet.

Nonetheless, all North's swimmers swam unbelievably, with many personal best times, which allowed the men's team to get Runner-up status for the second year in a row. Despite not winning States, North Attleboro's sheer force sent shockwaves throughout the whole swimming community by managing to get second at Sectionals and States, with only 10 guys. What a season!

Girls' Basketball

Under the new leadership of Coach John DelBonis and the continued support of the devoted Lady Hoopster's Club, the 2003-2004 season was one to remember.

The season opened up with a bang, as we beat one of our rivals, Franklin, with a shot at the buzzer. Unfortunately, that was the only win in our first five games of the season. Though our spirits were down, we knew we needed to turn our season around, and fast. In our next game against Stoughton, we managed to pull off another one point victory by landing a three pointer and ending with a four point play at the buzzer. The next game, after a tough fight, Oliver Ames managed to come out on top. We then began a 7 game winning streak over Sharon, Canton, King Philip, Franklin, Foxboro, Mansfield, and Stoughton. Again, Oliver Ames put a damper on our season, ending our winning streak.

However, many exciting victories followed as we continued our season. We finished the regular season with a record of 13-8 and earned our tenth consecutive bid to appear in the MIAA Tournament. Our loss to Brockton in the first round of the tournament did not come without a fight as we stayed in it for most of the game.

Our team chemistry remained strong throughout the season and it showed on the court. It became clear that five seniors had been playing together since 5th or 6th grade. We will miss all the jokes off the court and the great times on the court. Good luck next year to captains, Amanda Parr and Rachael Weintraub, Coach, and the rest of the team. We will miss you!

Girls Winter Track

The 2003-2004 Girls' Winter Track Team continued the North tradition this season with a winning record of 5-3. Under the leadership of Coach Feid and Coach McGrail, the team worked hard everyday at practice to push each individual which led to personal improvement at meet time. Although we were a young team, the underclassmen knew how to kick it up a notch and gave the strong upperclassmen a run for their money. Outstanding performances were seen this season by Jen McNamara, who being the Hockomock League Champion in the hurdles, earned a bid to the New England's. A strong sophomore class added depth to the team, racking in points every meet.

The memories made were unforgettable. This year's team showed the Hockomock League what it takes to wear Red and White! Captains Andrea McKim and Alycia Barney leave the team to Jen McNamara and Leah Seward who will without doubt continue the tradition, and lead the team to success. Good luck next year girls and Rock the Hock!

Marcus Vaughn continued his track dominance with new records in the hurdles and long jump. Chris Kalafarski excelled, leading the 4x400 relay and posting impressive times in the 55 meter hurdles. Ian Hobson finished 5th in the league meet in the mile, while Brendan "Flyin" Flynn placed 3rd. Also, Matt Hickey helped the team out by proving that he never gives up in his 1000 meter race and always inspires spectators to make more of themselves. The senior athletes leave the best of luck to the future team and remember to always run fast, throw far, and jump high.

This year's 2003-2004 gymnastics season was one of new faces as freshmen and sophomores filled the important roles vacated by the seniors who graduated last year. However, each girl brought something unique to the team and shined individually. Though the season had its disappointments and unlucky accidents, it ended well. The team qualified for the Sectional Championships, seated sixth out of eight. Brittany Dunn, Captain Kellyn Kearney, and Captain Amanda Lopes all qualified for the State Individual Championships. Dunn qualified in one event, and Kearney and Lopes in all four events. All three girls placed in this competition ending the rocky season on a good note. Amanda Lopes was also selected for the National Championships in May. The team had a lot of fun and the season was very enjoyable. We wish the best of luck to the team next year and remember to always keep smiling.

Wrestling

North Attleboro Wrestling's 2003-2004 season can be defined by only one word: TEAM. After a down year with an inexperienced team the previous season there was no telling where this team would end up. With senior leadership and hard-work this underdog TEAM pulled together and became one of the strongest in the state. North's bleached hair varsity line up continually toppled ranked teams and North's unranked wrestlers knocked off top grapplers. Meanwhile, the JV Squad rained terror on its opponents and assured North's wrestling future will be a bright one.

North's varsity team finished the season with a dual meet record of 14-5. The TEAM took home the Hockomock League title for the first time in years. With a combined effort the TEAM finished 2nd in the Sectional Tournament and remained strong taking 12 of 14 varsity wrestlers to the State Tournament. This TEAM marked the beginning of a new tradition of success.

Winter Captains Kara Shumila and Amanda Thompson

During the 2003-2004 seasons the cheerleaders of North Attleboro High School faced many challenges and anxiously attacked all of them with confidence and pride. We began our season by heading off to the College of Holy Cross for four days of UCA cheerleading camp. There we received numerous awards and obtained much new knowledge needed to continue our success in the future but the most prestigious of all was being named the "camp champs." We continued to hold our annual concession stand at Kid's Day and also fundraised by hosting a car wash and selling North paraphernalia at home games. During the season we created and practiced a halftime routine, which we showed off at games, rallies, and the Hockomock Cheerleading Jamboree held at Sharon High School. There we strutted our stuff and gave everyone else in the Hockomock league a taste of what was to come from the unstoppable North Attleboro Cheerleaders.

The 2004 basketball/competition season was comprised of 18 girls with one dream, State Champions. As the season began we encountered many new difficulties but we always stayed focused on our goal. Together as a team, we knew we could accomplish what once appeared impossible. Our two minute and forty second routine seemed exhausting and never-ending at practices but it was crammed with solid stunts, elite tumbling, powerful voices, and creative motions. With three inimitable coaches Patti Johnson, Julie George and Beth Grimes, two persistent and determined Captains Kara Shumila and Amanda Thompson, and three dedicated seniors leading the way our team constantly pushed past all the obstacles and proved no task was too big for us to take on. We received the title of Hockomock Champions in the Franklin Field house our first time competing, beating the reigning State Champions in their own gym. This was just a sign of the triumphant season to come. We received another first place trophy at Shepherd Hill along with the award for best stunt, dance and tumble. At the North Attleboro Invitation we received first place and the tournament cup. We also received two-second place trophies. On March 13th we headed to Marlboro where the State Tournament was held. We had done all the hard work; this was our time to shine. And so we did, our routine was flawless and perfect, all eyes were on us and we astonished every person in that gym. Finally we had proved to our coaches, our parents, the rest of the crowd, and to ourselves that we were simply the best. With a score of 182.5 we were crowned Division I State Champions and we were also the highest scoring team of the tournament, beating out all the other 52 teams in Massachusetts. This season was truly a fairytale, good luck next year in the years to come, keep the tradition alive!

Girls' Track

The 2004 spring track season opener was a success. North beat Stoughton handily with a 99.5 to 35.5 victory. However, the thrill was cut short when we lost to Franklin by a margin of only 2 points. Even still, against Franklin, many of us ran personal best times and people jumped and threw very far. Though we were all disappointed, we knew that we had done our best and went home with our heads high. We went on a six meet winning streak against Canton, King Philip, Oliver Ames, Attleboro, Foxboro and Sharon. With just one meet left we were 7-1 in the league. We faced our toughest competition, Mansfield, on a rainy day. Though we lost, many athletes performed better than expected.

The season truly flew by. However, before it was over we had finished 3rd place overall in the tough Hockomock League (7-2). We also won the Class B State Relays for the second time in the past four years, which is quite an accomplishment. School records were broken by Kellyn Kearney in long jump and the 4 X 100 team comprised of Kellyn Kearney, Jen McNamara, Adrienne Goldberg and Leah Seward. At the Hockomock League Meet, we came in third place with many great performances. The 4 X 100 team took first place and made it to the New England's where they finished fifth place.

We are happy to announce Amanda Walkins, Leah Seward, and Jen McNamara as captains for the 2005 track season. Good luck girls, we will miss you. Be sure to keep the tradition of North Attleboro Girls' Spring track alive!

Girls' Softball

The 2004 North Attleboro Softball team had big shoes to fill this season. The team had high hopes to pass their success from their previous year or at very least to meet it. After several years of coaching, Bill Wallace retired leaving this veteran team to Ms. Christine Bolte. As a team we battled back and forth with being .500 for the season. Our first game, unfortunately was an embarrassing loss to our rival Franklin Panthers; the next time we saw the Panthers, on their field, we showed them Big Red Softball. In the second game with Franklin we went 11 innings and ended with a score 1-0. Although the Panthers did win, it was arguably the best game North has ever played. The head coach of the Panthers even came over to the team at the end of the game saying "not every time does the best team walk off the field as the winner." Although we did not win this game, it was certainly a great compliment to hear this from an opposing coach.

Another highlight of the year was when North played Stoughton for the second time at Stoughton. It was a hot and brutal day, but we came out hungry and wanting to win. By the sixth inning, we were ahead 7-1 against the only undefeated team in Hockomock and what ended up to be Hock Champs. We broke Stoughton's winning streak and new hopes revived our team half way through the season.

We earned a spot in the state tournament this year going in 11-9. On our way into the tournament we stopped teams like Foxboro and Attleboro from gaining admittance. Our first tournament game was against Walpole. The first time we attempted to play them, our game got cut short because of rain and lightning. The next day we met them in the second inning we were ahead by one run. Unfortunately, by the time we pulled it together it was too late in the game and Walpole walked out the winners and one spot closer in the tournament. Although our season ended shorter than we would have liked it to, we still had a great time and wish the 2005 co-captains Aimee Chaisson and Amanda Dean the best of luck next season!!

North Baseball 2004

This year's baseball team was a great success, led by Bob Patalano and JT Mooney. Through the hard work of several seniors including Kyle Cornetta, Jim Destito, and Mike Luzon the team showed great talent. The most memorable game was our game against Feehan, it was an all around good performance.

-JT Mooney

Fisher Kelley Banquet

The annual Fisher Kelley Banquet was held on May 25th at Folan's Restaurant. The awards night was a success as it concluded our high school sports careers on a positive note. North Attleboro High School graduate, David Reed, and Athletic Director, Paul Sullivan were the speakers. Both speakers emphasized the value of the lessons that are learned playing sports and how the lessons can be applied to other areas of life.

Athletes were recognized for their participation in varsity sports. Also, some athletes were recognized with Sportsmanship Awards, as well as Three Season Athlete Awards. The prestigious Dr. Maurice Grant Award was presented to Chris Kalifarski.

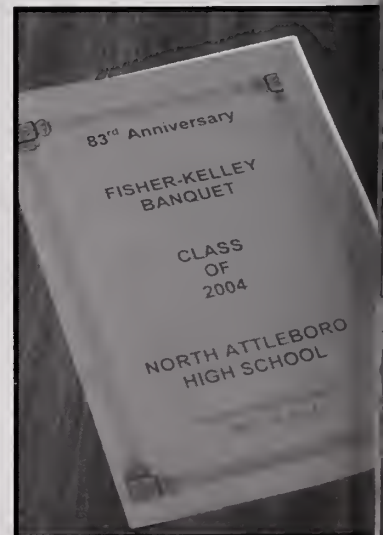

As we leave the comfort of North Attleboro High School and walk down new roads, we will take with us all of the traits that we developed as North Attleboro student athletes. The friends and accomplishments we made through sports will be a special part of our memories.

WWW. As seniors, we dominated the school: we were the bosses, the head executives, we were the CEO's. It took three years of hardwork to attain these positions but we maneuvered our way to the top with a tenacious grip on our aspirations and a dogged determination. We climbed the rungs of success through a stringent focus and by setting aside the pitifull obstacles that dared challenge our ascent to greatness.  In essence, high school allegorically describes the real world, and with our systematic take over of its trivial obstructions, we took charge of What we wanted. We are ready to take on the world..com

Memories

Senior Reception

The Senior Reception was held at the Mansfield Inn on June 3, 2004. The night was filled with family, friends, laughter and happiness. The Seniors started their night off with some dancing and a delicious meal. Parents later joined to congratulate the Class Of 2004 with endless handshakes and hugs. The night sadly came to an end, and it was time to say goodbye and prepare for graduation day. The Senior class realized that their high school years were almost over.

Informal Class Day

On June 4, 2003 the senior class arrived at the gynasium, early in the morning, to present themselves to the rest of the students and teachers in school. They joyfully listened to their Class History, announced the yearbook dedication to Ms. Goyette, and watched the Senior Slide Show of memories from the present and the past. After all was said and done, the seniors left the gymnasium and awaited their Formal Class Night.

Brooke Lenahan hands Ms. Goyette her yearbook dedication award.

Formal Class Night

Friday night's Formal Class Night saw the Class of 2004 get all dressed up to march into the gym in front of our parents and friends. The night consisted of several essays read by Matt Bonneau, Greg Roberts, and Amina Shareef. Their moods went from a message of courage, to a moment of lightheartedness, back to serious discussion of how society makes us think. The essays were all well written and intelligent, but most of the students agreed afterward that Greg's cry of "bring back Eureka's Castle" was the most entertaining of the night. Several awards were presented including the Principal's Award, the Presidential Award for Excellence, and the Athletic Cups which went to Erin Cournoyer and Marcus Vaughn. The night was capped off with an encore presentation of the Senior Slide Show put together by Ben Miller and Brendan Flynn.

Graduation Day

The misty rain blanketing NAHS on June 6, 2004 could not dampen the high spirits of the eager graduates and the proud parents as the well packed Kenneth G. Pickering Gymnasium attested to this fact. In truth, the rain brought about an aura of mystery, playing along well with the mystery of our futures. Once again, it looked like Christmas in the halls. The Women in pristine white and the men in deep red. Valedictorian Jill Berry eloquently reminded us about our own "uniqueness" while Salutatorian, Molly Sullivan, extolled the virtue of kindness. Finally, we received the very thing that would set us free: Our diplomas. And with full satisfaction we walked off that stage with the proof of our hardwork in our embrace.

Yearbook Dedication

As we embark upon the future we will have great successes, but also are sure to stumble upon difficulties. In our new surroundings, make sure that you don't forget those people who inspired you during your high school years.

Remember: every battle can be won, a smile can brighten the darkest of days, laughter is a cure-all remedy, and as the recipient of the 2004 yearbook dedication would say, "always wear SPF 30."

Over the past four years, this person has been our teacher, advisor, coach, role model and friend. The positive outlook on life and its hardships, possessed by this person, is admirable.

In the classroom, this teacher taught us how to lead a healthy and happy life, and prepared us for the challenges we may face. Her students will never forget the stress relieving naps, and the E.R. drama brought to the classroom every Friday.

On the fields, this coach shaped the character of her athletes. Her own athletic prowess was reflected in her coaching style. She should be applauded for many of her athletes' perseverance, dedication, and positive attitudes. Her teams will remember her favorite motto, "S.I.U."

As a role model, she taught us to put our best foot forward. Her poise and confidence made her an image of strength and bravery. Since she accepted nothing but the best, she inspired us to give a hundred and ten percent at all times.

As a friend, she was always there to offer encouragement and words of wisdom. Her comforting nature made her an approachable mentor, even when we were freshmen. Equipped with high-spirits and enthusiasm, she remained a provider of optimism.

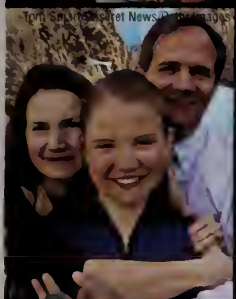

This teacher has touched our hearts not only through her roles as a teacher and coach, but as an astute monitor of the senior hallway. As we all go our separate ways, many of us will remember how this teacher's aura radiated both outside the girls' bathroom in the senior hallway, and the wall labeled "ARTS." It is with great pleasure that we can present this dedication to someone so deserving. Congratulations, Ms. Christine Goyette. We will miss you.
